YOUNG BOY'S ANKLE
CRUSHED BY TRAIN

Little Melvin Anderson Fell Under the Wheels While Playing on a Car.

Melvin Anderson, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Anderson, of 303 South Franklin street, met with a serious accident Saturday afternoon, his right leg being run over at the ankle by a freight car and badly crushed. Dr. E. F. Woods, the attending physician is in hopes that amputation will not be necessary, however.

The accident was the result of the careless habit which children have of playing around the railroad tracks and trains. Little Melvin was taking a ride on a long train of freight cars which was switching on the South River street track. No one noticed the child except his little companions and in his play he accidentally fell from the car and one of the wheels ran over his right ankle.

The injured child was taken to his home and Dr. Woods was called to attend him. The ankle was badly mangled. The flesh was torn from the bones for six inches above the ankle and also torn from one side of the foot. Both bones were broken and pushed through into the tendons.
It is a very severe injury but fortunately Dr. Woods was able to preserve enough of the blood vessels intact
so that there was a good circulation today and he is in hopes that the limb can be saved.

CORNER BOOMS PRICE OF PEPPERMINT OIL

Michigan Firm Gets Control of 95 Per Cent of the Crops and Doubles Rates.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 27.—A. M.
Todd company, limited, has secured 95 per cent of the peppermint and essential oil crop of the world, amounting to a practical corner. The price of peppermint oil, which a month ago was $2.50 a pound, is now $5. As the total crop this year is about 190,000 pounds, the total value will be $950, 000, and the advance amounts to nearly half a million. New York speculators have kept down the price and the growing of the essential oil plant has been unprofitable. Todd says that under the new arrangement the growers will reap profits. The crop of the present season is only two-thirds as large as usual. The heavy rainfall has produced the smallest crop in ten years.

GOVERNOR LA FOLLETTE OPENLY OPPOSES SPOONER'S RE-ELECTION

States to an Audience at Appleton That Before He Will Endorse Spooner, Spooner Must Endorse the Platform--Still Spooner Talks for La Follette.

Appleton, Wis., Oct. 27.—Governor LaFollette Saturday in this city showed his hand on the United States senatorship and on the question of re-electing John C. Spooner to the senate this winter.

Governor LaFollette had finished his speech and considerable confusion prevailed in the hall. Colonel Fred W. Heinemann, who was the conservative candidate for the candidate for the assembly nomination in this district, and who was defeated by Warren L. Root, arose from the midst of the audience and said:

"Governor LaFollette, I would like to ask you a question."
To this the Governor replied:

"You may ask me any question you wish, and if I am able to answer
it I shall do so."

Then Mr. Heinemann said:

"THE QUESTION THAT WAS ASKED
"In view of the brilliant record made by Senator Spooner, to which you have so eloquently referred in your speech, and in view of the splendid campaign he is making for the entire Republican ticket, are you in favor of his unconditional re-election to the United States senate?"

The Governor replied:

"THE ANSWER THAT HE MADE
"I will answer you in this way, sir: I am for the success and for the principles of the Republican party, and the day and the hour that Senator Spooner raises his voice for the principles of the Republican party, as laid down by its state platform, I will raise my voice for his re-election to the United States senate."

Cheering from the audience greeted this declaration, but the cheering was not unanimous.

People crowded up to shake hands with Mr. LaFollette and express their approval. Others remained silent and turned away.

LA FOLLETTE MEN GIVE FEW CHEERS.
At this point a local La Follette leader, named Harbeck, a lieutenant of the Governor, proposed three cheers for the governor's answer of the question.

The cheers were given by the personal followers of the governor, who were present, but there were many of those who did not respond.

QUESTION ASKED
"The question now arises, does Governor LaFollette intend to bolt the Republican legislative ticket? Will he make no concessions—or personal references, not of principle—for the sake of maintaining harmony in the Republican party?"

"Why cannot Governor LaFollette conform to the expressed will of the members of his party upon this subject as outlined in platforms adopted by legislative conventions?"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

GREAT GOLD FIELDS
IN EASTERN SIBERIA

Country Bids Fair to Rival America
in Output of Precious Metal and in Wheat Farms.

New York, Oct. 27.—That the greatest gold fields the world has ever known are in the Amur river country,
eastern Siberia, is the opinion of E.
B. McCowan, a mining expert, who has just returned from a 12,000-mile trip of exploration through the Asiatic possessions of Russia. The Russians, he said, took out $2,000,000 of gold last year from the placer deposits and have not yet begun to work the quartz. The mining methods of the Russians are very crude, Mr. Mc-Cowan says, and do not compare with American methods.

The exhaustive trip he made through Siberia has convinced Mr.
McCowan that it is the richest undeveloped country on the globe and from an agricultural point has greater possibilities than the wheat and corn growing sections of the United States.

"Before many years have elapsed," said Mr. McCowan, "Siberia will supply all of Europe with grain. Many wheat farms have already been opened and the government is encouraging immigration from European Russia to this great and rich country."

"The Russians have not yet learned the advantages of using American agricultural machinery, but they are quick to learn and very shrewd, much shrewder than the average Yankee.
Before long their wheat farms will rival in every way those of the northwest."

Senators Eat Dog
AT HAWAIIAN FEAST

Messrs. Mitchell, Foster and Burton Partake of "Roast Pig" and Call for More.

San Francisco, Oct. 27.—Hawaiians are laughing heartily over a joke they say was played on the members of the senatorial commission last month.
United States Senators Mitchell of Oregon, Foster of Washington and Burton of Kansas were made to eat dog—not political dog, but real,
cooked canine.

Those who are authority for the story declare that the senators ate the fare with relish and called for more. This dish was served the party at one of the native "luau," or feasts,
during their recent visit in Honolulu.

Among Hawaiians cooked dog has long been esteemed one of the greatest of delicacies. No native feast is ever complete without such a dish, and by old and young the morsel is eagerly sought. The dogs so served are not any common breed of mongrel, but are carefully raised and prepared for the table. The senators thought they were eating roast pig.

TRIAL IN REEDER'S
COURT INTERESTING

Involves Rental of Land and Raising of Crops on Percentage Basis.

Early this morning the trial of
S. Fanny Phillips against William Sleepman and Charles Grahter was resumed in Justice Reeder's court. Innumerable witnesses have been examined in the past two days, and a still further number were examined this morning. It is probable that a decision will be rendered by the jury by the end of the day, but the progress made thus far has been very slow.

Blinding Contract
Several allegations are made in the complaint, and the examination of the witnesses therefore presents some inevitable complexities. The defendants leased a farm of the plaintiff on March 1, 1902, to be held for one year. By the terms of the lease as is claimed, a certain number of crops were to have been planted, and one-half of the proceeds of each should be given to the owner of the farm, as soon as the amount of the sale on any one had been received.

Every Condition Violated
Furthermore good care was to be taken of the farm; no wagons were to be driven around the house except when the ground was frozen, the dressing was to be removed from the stables; one third of the eggs laid—one-third of the hens being furnished by the plaintiff—were to be given to the plaintiff, and several other conditions were involved in the lease.

Refuse to Quit Farm
On September 9, five days before this action was started, notice was served on the defendants that they quit the farm. According to the complaint, no tobacco or millet, both of which crops were to have been planted, had been raised, and, in short, every detail above mentioned had been violated

HARVEST HOME IS WELL OBSERVED

INSPIRING SERVICES AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

SPLENDID MUSICAL PROGRAM

Rev. Denison Speaks to Immense Congregations at Both Morning and Evening Services.

Harvest Home services were held at the Congregational church yesterday and immense congregations filled the church both morning and evening. The pulpit platform and choir balcony were massed artistically with autumn foliage and grains and bouquets of autumn's choicest flowers were combined effectively with the decorations which were significant of the harvest home season.

Special Music
The music at both services was especially fine. The morning's program included two anthems, "Sing to the Lord of Harvest," by Barnby and Harvest Hymn by Hanscom, rendered by the large chorus choir. "Praise to the King of Kings," by Burdette, sung by the children's choir, and a solo, "Ave Maria," by Mascagni, exquisitely rendered by Mrs. McCarthy, with violin and cello obligato by Oscar Halverson and F. F. Lewis. Mrs. McCarthy's rare musical and expressive voice was also heard with pleasure by the evening congregation. The music for the evening service, also included the singing of "The Shadows of the Evening Hour" by Nevin and "Exalt Him" by Hanscom, by the chorus choir and a duet "Land of Peace" by Marston, sung by eight young girls from the children's choir.

Lesson of the Sower
"Sowing and Reaping" was the appropriate topic chosen by Rev. Robert C. Denison for his morning Harvest Home sermon. It was centered around the parable of the sower and its keynote was hopefulness and encouragement, only the bright and fruitful side of the picture being presented.

In his introduction Rev. Denison referred to the fact that man's first teacher is nature. All men are taught in the kindergarten of the world. Before there were schools or laboratories, the trees, the stars, the mountains and the sea whispered their lessons to man. These things are so common that men do not get from them the wealth of their significance. If the stars only shone once in a hundred years, men would marvel over them. If the seed time and the harvest, that mysterious process which no scientist can understand, came only once in a life time, man might understand its richness and significance, but because it is so common he misses its great lesson.

A Simple Story
There is nothing new about the story but from the simple facts of the harvest may be drawn the simple facts of the spiritual life. The first necessity for harvest is a good soil well prepared. There is no harvest of the soul but what springs from a prepared soil. The seeds of faith will not bear fruit in a life choked with thorns and man cannot build a gentle life unless he casts out the stones of pride and selfishness. If men were as careful in preparing their souls as the florists and farmers are in preparing the soil, how far different the results would be.

Seed Must Be Good
Another necessity for the harvest is good seed. The farmer selects the most perfect ears for his seed corn. Too often the seeds scattered over the soil of the soul are vexations, irritations, selfishness and narrow thoughts. People sow their souls thick with the seeds of gossip and common things which demean their lives. Some men say that it is not possible for them to select their thoughts. That they must live in the world as they find it. Yet it is possible for a man to refuse to let selfish things crowd themselves into his life. Every man can select the thoughts over which he will think. A little thought with Jesus or of Paul's ringing courage every day will sweeten life.

Variety of Seeds
The principle of variety and rotation of crops in agricultural life has its counterpart in the spiritual life. The man who spends all of his time in the gymnasium becomes a magnificent specimen of physical development but he is one-sided. The man who devotes his time to his office may have a keen mind, but his body will be undeveloped. He who is all business may be shrewd and even rich but he has not developed the finer elements. He who is a religious recluse, who keeps away from the world's cares and its pleasures, is perhaps the most one-sided and undeveloped man of all. Man needs to learn rotation, to sow the seeds of energy and spiritual truths if he would reap the richest harvest.

Wait For Harvest
After man has sowed the seed he must wait. If he were as rich as Croesus, the best of farmers and workers day and night the wheat would not come to harvest until due time. A sweet character does not grow in a day and truth and a clear life come only by the process of development. Man must learn patience from the farmer and he will get the harvest in due time.

He must also sow in hope. Harvests are sometimes delayed by the floods of deceitfulness, the drought of selfishness or the grasshoppers and locusts of little vices. Man must sow in patience over and over again. It takes more time to ripen character than it does to ripen corn. The seeds sowed by the martyrs of centuries ago find their harvest in the liberty of today, that church liberty which does not bind every man down to one narrow creed; which hinders no one from his broad, individual thought.

Richness of Harvest
One must admire the spirit of the sower. He goes out in freedom and hope, scatters the seed broadcast and lets God care for the harvest. That is the spirit in which the soul should scatter broadcast the seeds of sympathy, kindness, faith and truth. The harvest will be one hundred fold. Good words and kind deeds reap an immense harvest in their influence on other lives. That is the outside harvest. There is an inner harvest as well and he who sows faith, love, peace and hope reaps them one hundred fold in the experiences of his own soul.

Tribute to William McKinley
In the evening Rev. Denison spoke eloquently of "The Lesson of a Life—William McKinley." He asserted that William McKinley would be remembered in history not because of what he did but because of what he was. One of the chief things which will be remembered of him is his high moral character which overshadowed his skill as a debater and a politician. The purity of his life, the gentleness and chivalry of his spirit and his faith will be the things remembered of him.

In his life there was no trace of anything low or debasing. His life proved the falsehood that the sowing of "wild oats" is necessary to make a manly man. His entire life was clean yet he was not a prig nor a man without influence. On the contrary he was a successful politician, a man to be trusted, and the sweet simplicity of his life was one reason of his success.

A True Gentleman
Another thing for which he will be remembered was his chivalry, his courtesy. Men have called him the representative of American manhood and it would be well for American manhood if that were true. The world has no dearth of politicians but greater than a politician is a gentleman. Gentlemen are brave men. It is the blusterer who is the coward. The courage of gentle people is the finest in the world.

Died As He Lived
William McKinley will be long remembered for the scenes at his death. He showed the world how a Christian gentleman could die. Truth sits on a dying man's lips. The gentle, considerate and trusting spirit which he showed in death was the same which he had showed in life. His life was back of his death. William McKinley died like a Christian gentleman, because he lived like one. He was not a great man but he was a gentleman.

George Ade's Successful Satire
Of all the new musical comedies and light operas, and there certainly are a plenty of them, none has attracted more widespread comment than "The Sultan of Sulu," the musical satire by George Ade of "Fables in Slang" fame. By many this piece has been rated the most worthy of any from American authors in years. Mr. Ade is the well known humorist whose stories in slang have given him a permanent place among American authors, and now his comic opera promises to give him rank with the best librettists. "The Sultan of Sulu" is a satire on Sultan Kl-ran and his island institutions in the far off Philippines and the assimilation of his majesty by Uncle Sam's expedition of soldiers, marines, etc., who make a peaceful conquest of Sulu. Mr. Ade has introduced American politicians, commercial travelers and Boston school teachers to show not what did happen but what might have happened on the island. The story is not in slang, but there is plenty of Ade fun in his most characteristic vein running through the lyrics, there being twenty-four musical numbers. The music is described as being not only pretty and catchy, but Mr. Wat-hall is credited with having caught the humor of the songs and interpreted it in melodies that are humorous, a rare gift among musicians. The company numbers eighty people and Manager Savage is said to give "The Sultan" a lavish production, the costumes being spoken of as a perfect riot of color.

MISSION BEGINS IN HUMBLE WAY

ABOUT A SCORE ATTEND FIRST EVANGELICAL SERVICES.

ENGLISH LUTHERAN MEETINGS

Rev. Anda Speaks in the Caledonian Rooms on the Need of Preaching for Americans.

In the Caledonian rooms a little body of those who are interested in the organization of an English Lutheran church in this city gathered together on Sunday afternoon. Thus far the efforts in this direction have not gone beyond the founding of a mission, and those who are most interested in the movement do not expect that it will be possible to organize into a church in less than a couple of months. In the meantime meetings will be held in this city every Sunday.

Rev. A. C. Anda, of Chicago, the Western Sunday school field secretary of the general council of the Evangelical Lutheran church, led the services yesterday afternoon. He was assisted by two students from the Chicago Lutheran seminary, C. P. Fisher and F. E. Stroebel. Miss Edith Lundie presided at the organ in leading the musical part of the beautiful service which is prescribed by the Lutheran church.

Hold Regular Services

Beginning next Sunday regular services will be held: Sunday school at 9:30 and church at 10:30 in the morning, with an evening preaching service at 7:00 o'clock. Rev. Anda will be in the city during the coming week to talk with those who are interested in organizing a church, a number of whom have already signified their desire of becoming members should an organization be reached. After next Sunday, students from the Chicago seminary will have charge of the mission until some permanent arrangement can be made.

It was through the efforts of the general council of the Evangelical Lutheran church that the first movements were made toward the establishment of a mission in this city. Foremost among those Janesville persons who have abetted and encouraged the efforts of the council were Thomas Erickson, Paul Iverson and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Anderson.

Profitable Meeting
It was an impressive service. Hardly more than a score of persons were present, but they entered into the reading of the service and the singing of the hymns with an enthusiasm which indicated that they had long awaited the founding of a mission in which the Lutheran service should be given in English. Rev. Anda proved an earnest and powerful preacher, leading the order of the service with unusual expressiveness and beauty.

Owing to the unfamiliarity of many of those who were present, the musical part of the common service was omitted and the singing was restricted to hymns. Next Sunday it is hoped to be able to make the service more complete in that respect. Rev. Anda announced that the mission was in no way to be regarded as a trial, as the council never began services in a city until they were confident that there would be an ultimate demand for a church in that place. Arrangements had been made for the use of the Caledonian rooms for at least several Sunday mornings.

The Evangelical Message

Appropriately enough, the minister had chosen for the text of his first address in this new mission to the divine evangelical message to the apostles, "go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." The speaker first outlined the development of the work of the Twelve, from the time when they entered their efforts only to the Jews within a limited region until they had preached the word of Christ to the Gentile and to the barbarian.

What is the Gospel, was then asked by the speaker? No account of mere moral or ethical study and development can bring the individual to the level which Christ desires. The gospel, which is powerful and can transfer its message to young and old, pure and sin-laden, is that which brings the life of righteousness and fear of God.

Broad in Application

If the command of God is to be obeyed, there must be absolutely no limit to the efforts which the church should make to spread the word of God. The message is plain, and embraces every part of the world, and each inhabitant thereof. There is no exception, and no limitations, and the responsibility which is imposed is great.

More languages are spoken by the Lutheran church than by any other Protestant church. Sixty millions are embraced by this church, while the next Protestant church has eighteen millions. But this is not a matter for pride or glory. It is the duty of the Lutherans to blame themselves that they have not made the church even wider in scope.

Should Extend Influence

In America the Lutheran church has not done its duty. There are hundreds of thousands of Lutherans in America who are now Americans and speak that tongue. Their children are growing up to learn only the English tongue and they are drifting away from their church because they cannot understand the service which is being preached in the tongue of their parents.

Then too, the divine command is not being fulfilled if "every creature" does not hear the gospel. In America where there are millions who should hear the message of Jesus Christ, but there are comparatively few English speaking Lutheran churches in this country and so long as the greater part of the preaching of the church is done in a foreign tongue, there is but little opportunity for outsiders to hear the gospel.

A Difficult Task

It is no easy matter to bring the gospel to these people. But it is not the good part to lie back in leisure and reap the benefits for which others have worked. As the disciples, who fought against odds greater than can be imagined, it is the duty of the church to fight the good fight.

This is the work that is hoped to be done in this country. There are many who cannot receive the same advantages from the ministrations of the church in any other tongue than the English. The body which hopes to organize a church in this city numbers over four hundred thousands, and is the next to the largest branch of the church.

It is not the desire of the church to proselyte or to recruit from the ranks of other organizations, but it is desired simply to fulfill the command embodied in the text. It is hoped in this city to be able to do a small part of the great work of saving souls and upbuilding of the kingdom in accordance with the great command of God.

IT TELLS THE TIME BY NIGHT AND DAY

Illuminated Dials of the City Clock Are Now on Duty, and Prove Convenient.

Electrical connections for the clock in the city hall building were completed by City Electrician Klein on Saturday, and people are now receiving the benefit of the illuminated dial at night. This illuminated dial proves a great success and the brilliant faces make the clock much more conspicuous after dark than in the daytime. When the strike is put in the city clock will be of genuine service to the city.

Improvements of the grounds surrounding the city hall are constantly being carried on. The work of sodding the front and side lawns is nearly completed and indications are that next spring the city hall and its surroundings will be one of the most attractive places in the city of Janesville.

IN THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW

John Rutherford
At the advanced age of eighty-five years, John Rutherford passed peacefully into the unknown land beyond the grave, his death occurring Saturday evening at 8:45 o'clock at the Palmer Memorial hospital. Death was due to the infirmities of old age and was hastened by Mr. Rutherford's grief over the death of his wife who passed away about three weeks ago. Deceased leaves one daughter, Miss Anna Rutherford, of this city, and one son, A. J. Rutherford, of Chicago.

Funeral services will be held from the home, 265 South Bluff street, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mary Kehoe
Death came to Mary Genevieve Kehoe yesterday morning at 3:30 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Kehoe on Sharon street. Deceased had suffered from hemorrhages of the stomach for the past two weeks and although everything that loving care could do to spare her life was done, death came off conqueror. Deceased was twenty-one years of age and her death, just as she was blossoming into young womanhood, is a severe affliction for her parents and for the many friends with whom she was popular.

Mrs. Barney Reilly
Funeral services for the late Mrs. Barney Reilly, of the town of Porter, were held from St. Michael's church, in the town of Porter, Sunday afternoon and were largely attended by sorrowing friends of the deceased woman. The interment was in the town of Porter cemetery. Mrs. Reilly was eighty-four years of age and had been an esteemed resident of Rock county for the past thirty years.

LET'S SIT DOWN AND TALK

The Whitewater Register, familiarly known as E. D. Co's paper, published in a late issue, the following editorial. There are many life long republicans who will endorse the sentiment expressed and who are troubled to know just how far allegiance to the state ticket should influence action. It is not a question of loyalty, but it is a question of policy.

The Gazette does not believe that Wisconsin republicanism can ever harmonize under the leadership of R. M. La Follette, and the belief is shared by all conservative members of the party throughout the state. That he deserves to be rebuked for the methods employed in securing his nomination, is generally thought, but the welfare of the party is involved, and men will think twice before casting a vote for democracy.

The republican party is confronted with a choice between two evils, La Folletteism and democracy. The latter is old and far from satisfactory. The former is new and revolutionary. It is possible to control the former within the ranks of the party, and infinitely better to do this than to turn the state over to the common enemy, with results that may be entailed. The Gazette has no more use for La Folletteism than it had when it first came to the surface, but it has an abiding confidence in republicanism, and believes that the best interests of the party will be served by voting the straight ticket.

"The Register has been a republican paper without variableness or shadow of turning from its first issue, forty-five years ago, to the present time; and probably it will continue so for all time to come. Its editor was a republican long before he could vote and sees no reason why he should not remain one as long as he can vote. These expectations are not based on any party bigotry or devotion they exist simply because the republican party is composed of people who think and feel alike on questions affecting the commonwealth, and so can be relied upon to act alike in the main when action is called for. The men who united in the middle fifties upon the broad, patriotic principle that African slavery, which threatened the final destruction of the republic, should not be allowed to extend its limits. Logically stood together in dealing with the momentous issues which have since arisen. They were a unit in supporting President Lincoln in the Civil war, they stood together in the reconstruction period, they have found fields for united and patriotic endeavor in seeking to protect American industries against injurious foreign competition and securing for the American people abundant and honest money for business use. As conditions change, requiring new political adjustments, the party has always met the situation in accordance with the promptings of an intelligent patriotism. It has been a good party to tie to, still is and so will continue to be.

The present state campaign is different from any that have preceded it, yet there is good republican duty laid out for the party. It is a period when vital questions of a new character are forced upon the national administration, and it needs the support of its ablest and truest friends in congress. For this reason every republican should give his vote so that it will help to insure the return of John C. Spooner to the United States senate and the election of the republican candidate for congress in his district. In this county the party has nominated an admirably county ticket and given it a platform to stand on broad and sound enough for the whole state. The county officers, the assemblyman and senator and the congressman have claims which should bring every republican to the polls no matter how much he may be displeased with the features of the campaign.

"As to the state ticket, we are sorry to have to admit that it does not present the usual demand upon the allegiance of the republican voter. Its candidates are republicans but they were nominated by a manipulated and unrepresentative convention. It was in the main an inert body and was shaped helplessly to the will of one individual. His personal ambition and personal animosities were permitted to find expression in its action. The attempted humiliation of Senator Spooner, and the betrayal for a price of Superintendent Harvey, would not have been possible except in a "convention" gathered through the misapplied energies of game wardens and through intrigues with opposition parties. The "platform" adopted does not contain a single principle which has been recognized and distinctively republican. The taxation plank is an aged platitude to which everybody gives consent and the primary election idea refers to matters of policy rather than political doctrine; it should no more be regarded as a test of party fealty than a proposition to amend the constitution so as to increase the supreme bench to seven judges or to move the state capital from Madison to Milwaukee. It is a matter of great regret that we cannot urge our republican friends as heartily to vote the entire state ticket as has been our wont in the past and as we hope to in the future years, but it would be self-stultification to do so; and so we must heartlessly leave them to flounder up to what they may conceive to be their duty with our best wishes but without our helpful council."

REPUBLICAN SUCCESS

Election is but a week away, and republican ticket will win. The Gazette has maintained from the first that the state ticket would be elected by a majority of any where from 25,000 to 40,000. The governor, railroad commissioner and state superintendent will run behind the balance of the ticket, and it is possible that the two latter may be defeated, but in case they are, it will hardly be considered a democratic victory.

The argument advanced by Senator Spooner, that principles are greater than man, will save many votes to the state ticket. The senator's friends realize that he is influenced by loyalty to the party, and many life long members, who have no use for the man, La Follette, will vote for him because his name is on the party ticket.

The party will outlive the man, and at the expense of personal feeling. Every congressman, as well as the legislative and county candidates will need the full vote of the party, and every republican voter should realize the responsibility that rests upon him.

WOMEN SHOULD VOTE

Attorney General E. R. Hicks has rendered the unofficial opinion that the women of Wisconsin are eligible to vote on the constitutional amendment affecting the office of state superintendent of schools. This privilege should add much to the interest that the women voters of the state feel in the coming election at which they will cast their ballots for the official head of the public schools.

The partial suffrage granted to Wisconsin women means a great deal if it is accepted as a sacred responsibility. Every mother is vitally interested in education. It is the duty of all women to exercise their influence toward the advancement and improvement of the public schools which mould the citizens of tomorrow and lay the foundations for civic prosperity. Within the last decade the women's clubs have devoted much time to educational topics and the thousands of members of the state have begun to work earnestly for practical training and advanced methods. Every one of these club members as well as all the other women voters should earnestly study the provisions of the proposed amendment. This amendment would extend the state superintendents term of office from two to four years, increase his salary and give him added authority. The Sentinel has advocated its passage, but it suggested that the women voters take pains to inform themselves concerning the exact significance of the proposed amendment.

There is still ample time for all qualified voters to register. So far the women of the state have appeared indifferent to their privilege of exercising an influence in educational matters. Their registration has been light, but it is not too late to take the first step toward voting, as the last chance to register will be Oct. 28. It is the duty of the women of Wisconsin to go to the polls on election day. Let none neglect her opportunity.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

JUST THE TIME

Some men are waiting for business. Some men think that if they wait long enough business will come to them. Some men seem to believe that business just happens. There are others who realize that to get business one must hustle for it. They know that if a thing is worth having it is worth hustling for. And they do work. They get up in the morning thinking what they can do to benefit their business. When they eat their breakfast they think what will be for the benefit of the business. They enjoy their business and they are business. They bind to the business they have and enjoy in seeing to grow. They know that this week's bargains are the ones to be pushed now. It is the realization of the importance of the bargains for today that makes the man successful. Are you thinking of it now?—Adv World.

PERSISTENCE

The great moral that can be pointed to the advertiser is that of keeping at it. The tortoise and hare story is applicable under many circumstances, but especially to the man who advertises. Keep the thing going. Even if it is impossible to do big things keep the little ones to the foreground, and see that the little efforts count for as much as possible. There are many points which need careful revision—even small points—but it is worth the attention of the man to make them as strong as they can be made and to push them as hard as they may be pushed. To persist in an unwise policy is foolish, but to be active in pushing in the right direction shows the best of business judgment.—Adv World.

The test of loyalty placed upon Senator Spooner, is greater than required of any other republican in the state. He was openly insulted by a convention that claimed to be republican, but his range of vision is broad enough to take in the future, and his confidence in the party is unshaken.

It is well to be on the right side of the American cow, especially at milking time, but there are several people in this country who don't own a cow, and some of them are eating bread without butter, because they can't afford the luxury. There are too slaves to almost every question.

Any republican who trades his vote in an effort to defeat the republican nominees for the legislature, should be regarded with suspicion. If Senator Spooner is returned, it must be done with republican votes.

Every intelligent woman should see that her name is registered, and then she should go to the polls Nov. 4 and vote for the constitutional amendment, and for the state superintendent.

Judge Lyon of the state board "under control" is out with an eulogy for Supt. Cary, but he forgets to state that the wishes of the silent audience at Delavan was not consulted when Supt. Swider was removed.

Chairman Bryant claims 50,000 majority for La Follette, while Chairman Varden claims 20,000 for Rose. Great minds sometimes differ. The fourth of November will determine who is the best at guessing.

Give us a primary law without regard to consequences. The good people of the state are being deprived of their rights without knowing it, and it is time to reform.

BENEFITS OF NEW POLITICAL PARTY

Thomas J. Morgan Addresses Laboring Men on Advantages of Democracy, Social

Thomas J. Morgan, a Chicago lawyer and a forceful, logical speaker, gave an address in this city Saturday evening on Social Democracy. Mr. Morgan spoke at Foresters' hall, which was filled with an interested audience. He outlined the principles and doctrines of the Social Democratic party, which he held is the only political party which insures equal rights to all and which is essentially the laboring man's party.

Mr. Morgan gave a brief history of the development of the laboring man, through five periods, the savage, barbaric, feudal, slave and the servant period. He is now in the servant period out of which he must develop into his higher rights. Mr. Morgan urged his hearers to investigate Social Democracy, feeling confident that they would become loyal members of the party when they understood its beliefs, its mission and its certainty of future success.

Mr. Morgan is a very entertaining speaker and he illustrated his address with an abundance of funny stories which kept his audience in good humor. At the close of his address he expressed his willingness to answer questions and considerable time was devoted to this feature of the evening.

ELECTRIC ROADS FORM NETWORK

ROCKFORD THE CENTER OF MANY INTERURBAN SYSTEMS.

NEW LINES ARE PROPOSED

Four Roads Are Now in Operation, and Others Will Be Built in the Spring.

Rockford now bids fair to become the center of a vast network of closely commingled electric lines. Before two years have passed one of the greatest interurban systems of the United States will have been completed with Rockford as the point of connection for all lines. The system will extend from Chicago to Madison, and take in many of the important cities of Northern Illinois, and Southern Wisconsin.

Nearly ten systems are already under way of completion, or at least proposed, and there is every reason to believe that the latter will materialize. Two of the systems would probably go through this city, one of them being the line which is already under construction, the Rockford, Beloit and Janesville, and the other the Rockford and Madison.

Immense Capitalization
A company capitalized at a million and a half dollars is the latest addition to Rockford's lines. It is the Aurora, DeKalb and Rockford company and is promoted by Chicago capitalists. The route has already been surveyed, and the papers of incorporation filed. This line, as well as several other interurban lines, will enter Rockford over the tracks of the Rockford and Interurban Railway company.

Four roads have already been built and are in operation, wholly or in part. They are the Rockford and Belvidere; Chicago, Aurora and Wheaton; Chicago, Aurora and Wheaton; and DeKalb and Sycamore. The Freeport extension of the Rockford and Interurban line has been capitalized but not surveyed, while the Rockford and Madison, and the Rockford and Elgin roads have gone no farther than the minds of the promoters.

COAL WILL REMAIN WHERE IT NOW IS

Coal Dealers Say the Price of Anthracite Will Not Change Until More Can Be Bought.

There will be no drop in the price of anthracite for some time to come, said a local coal dealer in response to an inquiry regarding the rumor that hard coal had suddenly become much cheaper with the approaching settlement of the strike. When the dealers can secure more coal, they will then be able to fix a new price, but that time has not come yet, and is not likely to arrive immediately, according to the same authority.

This morning one of the local dealers received a notice that if he wanted any more soft coal, he would be obliged to pay an advance of one dollar a ton, and even then immediate shipment at that rate could not be guaranteed. Orders for soft coal have been coming in to the dealers in large numbers and the dealers are pressed to supply all that is wanted.

Charles L. Valentine
Charles L. Valentine, the candidate for the assembly from the second district, who has been for the past two years the representative of that district, was born in Genesee county, New York, October 16, 1846. When he was three years of age his parents moved to this state, and in 1850 settled in Rock county.

When the call for volunteers came in 1862, Mr. Valentine, then only sixteen years of age, was among those who offered their services and lives, if need be, to the country. At Spotsylvania he received an injury which necessitated the loss of a foot and he was mustered out that year, after two years of active service with the Fifth Infantry.

In 1870 Mr. Valentine was elected city clerk of Janesville and since that date, he has been among the foremost in civic and municipal affairs, devoted to his office, and public spirited in his services. For five years he served in the city clerk's office and then was chosen register of deeds, a position which he retained for twenty years. In 1900 he was sent to the legislature from the Second district, and has served faithfully and well.

Mr. Valentine is allied with the Knights of Pythias and with the Odd Fellows. He has at various times held aldermanic and school board offices, and has been known as among the men who have been deeply and sincerely interested in the welfare of the city and of the county, as well as a loyal member of his political party.

MUST REGISTER TOMORROW SURE

VOTERS SHOULD BE SURE ABOUT THEIR REGISTRATION.

FACTS FOR MARRIED WOMEN

Use of Their Husband's Christian Name Is Not Legal—Are Urged to Vote.

Every voter in the city male and female, who expects to have a voice in the coming election should make sure on tomorrow that on the registry list includes his or her name. Tomorrow is positively the last chance to register and owing to the change in registration laws, requiring the lists to be kept by street and number instead of alphabetically, the names of many men have doubtless been omitted. The former rule of copying the lists from preceding years could not be followed this year and men who have relied on the registry clerks to make their registration for them former records may go to the polls on election day and find themselves disqualified. If registration was not attended to in person three weeks ago, the only safe way is for the voter to go to the booth in his precinct tomorrow and make sure that his name is correctly entered.

The Woman, Also
The condition of affairs with the women, who are to vote for the first time this year, is equally as urgent. Many women are relying on the fact that their names were included in the list which was sent in by teachers of the public schools for registration. These lists were incorrect and incomplete, however, and do not come up to the requirements of law. While it is to be regretted that the hard work of the teachers was largely fruitless, the stern fact remains that women who expect to do their duty at the ballot box had best do their duty at the registration booth first.

By Her Own Name

Especially is it essential that married women should register personally tomorrow as almost without exception their names were given in with the husbands' Christian name instead of the wife's. A mother is not recognized legally by her husband's name and her name must appear on the registration lists just as it would on any legal document. It must be "Mrs. Mary Smith."

Much Ignorance

The lack of information on this subject has been quite general, some of the registry clerks even being ignorant concerning the matter. In several instances where personal registration was made or where the husband registered for his wife, the use of the husband's initials were accepted. There has been considerable discussion over the legality of such registration and finally the attorney general of the state was appealed to. His reply was that as he interpreted the law the wife's own name must be used. The attorney general is authority on the subject and his ruling must be accepted throughout the state.

Want Women to Vote

The women of the city are especially urged to see that they are correctly registered. Their vote on school questions is especially desired this year when the important amendment to the constitution is before the public for its decision. The men want the women to vote because it is believed that the women are vitally interested in educational matters and that they will vote wisely and intelligently. It is believed that the vote of the women will be in favor of the amendment and against the corrupt practice of dominating the schools for politics.

Appeal to Club Women

The club women are especially relied on to take the brave stand for the removal of the school from the field of politics. It is the thought that they have become so broadened by study and that their knowledge of existing conditions is so practical that they will see a duty rather than a right of privilege in the opportunity of suffrage and that they will attend to that duty by voting.

Letter from President

Some time ago a special appeal was made to the club women by Mrs. Theodora L. Youmans, of Waukesha, president of the State Federation of Women's clubs. The circular letter which sent out to the clubs of the state gives so admirably the reasons why women should register and vote that it may be read with profit by all women, whether members of a club or not. The greater part of the letter follows.

School Suffrage

"To Wisconsin club women: The attention of Wisconsin club women is directed to the fact that by reason of recent legislation, the women of this state are permitted to vote for school officers. At the coming election in November, every woman of legal age in this state may vote for state and county superintendents of schools, and separate ballot boxes will be provided for the ballots of women."

"The legislation which secured school suffrage for women was obtained through the efforts of the State Federation, which, two years ago, at the annual convention in Racine, passed a resolution favoring such legislation and authorizing the appointment of a committee to work for it."

"The efforts of that committee were successful and a bill conferring school suffrage upon women was passed at the last meeting of the legislature. It now remains for club women to profit by this privilege which they themselves asked for."

Better Schools

"The betterment of the public schools has been one of the main objects of club endeavor since the club was first established. In no other way can club members exercise so direct and telling an influence in school affairs. To be permitted to vote for county and state superintendent of schools, is to possess a power that, wisely applied, may work a metamorphosis in school management. May result in untold benefit to the schools and the children who attend them.

Don't Be Frightened

"Club women, do not let this opportunity pass without improving it. Show to the world that you are in earnest of your protestations of interest in the public schools. Inform yourself as to the merits of the several candidates for the positions of state and county superintendent, and vote for those you think best qualified for the work. Do not be frightened at the abstract idea of voting, which is an easy and harmless procedure. Remember that this is your chance to exercise a direct influence on the character of the schools where your children are educated, an influence that if exercised now will grow immensely in the future, not only in this but in other directions. Let every club woman in the state vote this fall, and clubs will immediately have the influence and a power for good that they have never possessed before."

Be Sure to Register

"For women who reside in cities, as for men, registration some days before the date of the election is necessary. Public notice of the times and places of registration are always given by the proper authorities. Watch for these notices. The one object of this leaflet is to remind club women that they have the right of voting for school officers at the coming election, and to urge that they appreciate and improve this great opportunity that has come to them."

ANNUAL SESSION OF WOMAN'S CLUB

WOMAN'S HISTORY CLUB ENTER-TAINED BY MISS PEASE.

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Prof. Wright Will Conduct Work in Roman History—Enjoyable
Social Gathering.

Members of the Woman's History club and its Auxiliary club of young women were charmingly entertained at the home of Miss Mary Pease, 65 Prospect avenue, Saturday afternoon. Miss Pease is the retiring president of the Woman's History club and it has been a custom in the club for several years for the retiring president to entertain the club on the occasion of its beginning the work for the new year.

New Officers Elected

There was a large attendance of the club members at Saturday's gathering which was also the annual meeting. The Woman's History club met at 2:30 o'clock and devoted the afternoon to the election of officers and other business. By the rule of the club, Mrs. F. S. Eldred, who served as vice president last year, becomes the president for the ensuing year. Mrs. M. G. Jeffris was elected vice president and Mrs. J. T. Wright was chosen as secretary and treasurer.

Prof. Wright to Lecture

During the coming year the club will continue its work under the personal leadership of Prof. Theodore L. Wright, of Beloit college, who had charge last year and whose lectures were highly appreciated by the ladies. This year the work will be on Rome and Roman history and Prof. Wright spent much of his time while abroad this summer in personal preparation for the work of the club. His work with the club this year will include twelve lectures and the first one will be given on next Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, the subject being the early legends from 774 to 509 B. C. The meetings will be held in the science room at the High school building on alternate Saturdays.

Prof. Wright, his sister, Miss Wright and Mrs. Helen B. Emerson, of Beloit, were guests of honor on Saturday afternoon. At 5:30 o'clock the Woman's History club was joined by the members of the Young Woman's auxiliary, who were invited by Miss Pease to join in the social session.

Supper and Souvenirs

An elaborate and very elegant three course supper was served at prettily laid tables under the supervision of Mrs. Louise Bowerman, as caterer. Photographs of famous places in Roman history were the appropriate souvenir cards laid at each cover. The meeting was one of the most delightful in the history of the club and Miss Pease's hospitality will long be remembered with pleasure by those who were privileged to be her guests.

Presbyterian Ladies Meet

There will be a special meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock in the church parlors. All members are requested to be present.

ELECTION NOTICE.

To The Electors of Rock County:

Notice is hereby given that a general election is to be held in the several towns, wards, and election precincts in the county of Rock, on the 4th day of Nov., 1902, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidate for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given opposite the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, and the questions submitted to a vote are stated below.

Office of the County Clerk, October 27, 1902.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters. A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. If it be a general election these words are to follow:

The voter if he wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party, should make a cross mark X under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the circle made for that purpose. A ballot so marked, and having no other mark, will be counted for all the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of the party have been erased or a cross mark be placed in the square under the name or at any place in the space occupied by the name or names of candidates in another column, and will be counted for any name written in lieu of one erased. If the voter wishes to vote for some of the candidates of different political parties, he should make a cross mark under the name of each candidate he desires to vote for, or at any place within the space in which the name is printed. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked, it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are as follows:
